

OUR AUTHORS

Aimar Ventsel, PhD is senior researcher at University of Tartu, University of Warwick, UK, and Estonian Literary Museum. His research interests include Siberian, Sakha, and Dolgan studies, and more specifically ethnic processes, nation building, music and youth culture, property relations and social structure of youth cultures.

punkrock@folklore.ee

*

Elena V. Liarskaya, PhD is senior research fellow at the Siberian Studies Centre, Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology, and associate fellow and researcher at the Department of Ethnology, European University, St Petersburg, Russia. She is co-founder of the Siberian Seminar at the Department of Ethnology. Her research interests include Nenets, family models, reproductive behaviour, reproductive rights, birth control, cultural change, comparison between the tundra and settlement.

liarskaya@eth.mpg.de

*

Florian M. Stammer, PhD is senior researcher and coordinator of Anthropology Research Team at the Arctic Centre, University of Lapland, Rovaniemi, Finland and institute associate at Scott Polar Research Institute, University of Cambridge, UK. His main research interests include anthropology of nomadic pastoralism, industrialisation, European and Siberian North, mobility and place-making.

fms36@cam.ac.uk (for English correspondence)

stammer@mail.ru (for Russian correspondence)

*

Tatiana D. Bulgakova, PhD in Anthropology, is professor at the Department of Ethnic and Cultural Studies at the Institute of the Peoples of the North, Herzen Russian State Pedagogical University, St Petersburg, Russia. Her research interests include shamanism, the culture of the peoples of Russian North and Far East and kinship.

tatianabulgakova@rambler.ru

*

Marina Hakkarainen, CSc is researcher and fellow associate at the Department of Anthropology, European University at St Petersburg.

marhakka@eu.spb.ru

*

Nikolay Kuznetsov, MA is researcher at the Department of Folkloristics, Estonian Literary Museum, lecturer of Finno-Ugric languages at the Department of Finno-Ugrian Studies, University of Tartu, and doctoral student at the University of Tartu. His scholarly interests include Permian linguistics, especially the morphosyntax of the Komi language, Komi folklore and culture in general.

kolja@folklore.ee

nikolai.kuznetsov@ut.ee

*

Stefan Krist, MA is affiliated with the Austrian Academy of Sciences, Centre for Studies in Asian Cultures and Social Anthropology, Social Anthropology Research Unit. His main research focus is the indigenous peoples of Southern Siberia, history, forms of expressive culture, religions.

stefan.krist@univie.ac.at

*

Alexander D. King, PhD is lecturer of anthropology at the University of Aberdeen, UK. His research interests are ethnography of speaking, ethno-poetics, symbolic anthropology, culture theory, dance, myth, indigenous languages & language endangerment/shift, ritual and shamanism, Siberia, Alaska.

a.king@abdn.ac.uk

*

István Sántha, PhD is affiliated with the Hungarian Academy of Science. His research interests include the Evenki, religion, and shamanism.

istvansantha@gmail.com

*

Joachim Otto Habeck, PhD is coordinator at the Siberian Studies Centre, Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology, Halle, Germany. His research interests include social anthropology, Siberia, public culture, cultural institutions, lifestyle plurality, and youth studies

habeck@eth.mpg.de www.eth.mpg.de

*

Andrew Wiget, PhD is professor and director at the New Mexico Heritage Centre and is affiliated with the New Mexico State University. His research interests include folklore (myth, legends, oral history, rituals, folk art and architecture), especially the folklore of indigenous peoples (Native Americans and native Siberians) and folklore of the Southwest, cultural conservation, American Indian Studies, the ethnography of communication, critical theory, etc.

awiget@nmsu.edu

Olga Balalaeva, PhD is independent scholar. Her research interests include Siberian studies, Khanty culture, and ethnic processes.

o.balalaeva@gmail.com

*

Art Leete, PhD is professor at the University of Tartu. His research focus is modernization in the Russian North, religious changes among the Komi, etc.

art.leete@ut.ee