

International Society for Humor Studies
ISHS CONFERENCE
2018 TALLINN

June 25-29, 2018

CALL FOR PANELS

October 1 - November 1, 2017

Please send an abstract of your session, workshop, debate or other format of your choice (250-300 words) together with the names and email addresses of the contributors (the list doesn't have to be final) by email to ishsconference2018@gmail.com

by November 1, 2017.

Our website: www.folklore.ee/ishs2018/

Facebook: ISHS2018

International Society for Humor Studies

CALL FOR PANELS

October 1 - November 1, 2017

Humour researchers and practitioners are invited to Tallinn, Estonia, to discuss humour from its basic definitions to innovative research and everything in between. Bringing together a variety of scholars, students and creative practitioners, ISHS Tallinn 2018 focuses on the broad theme of

“Humour: positively ? transforming”

- on the creative aspect and contextual nature of humour.

You are all warmly invited to submit proposals of moderated conference panels, symposia, workshops or PowerPoint-free debates in a format of your choice to ishsconference2018@gmail.com provided that you adjust to the single-slot (90 minutes) or double-slot (180 minutes) duration. The panel/symposium/workshop/debate convener should submit a proposal of 250-300 words, including the names of (some) contributors with their e-mail addresses, to the conference email by November 1 (the abstracts of individual contributions may be sent in later). The convener should also indicate whether their panel/symposium/debate is open to other contributors who would express their interest in joining it upon registering.

Important dates:

Call for panels: October 1 - November 1, 2017

Call for papers opens & registration starts: November 1, 2017

Deadline for early registration: February 15, 2018

Deadline for paper proposals: March 31, 2018